The clean, tailored design of Buick's new Centurion series is exemplified in the hardtop coupe with its distinctive, formal roof and sculptured accent line down the side. The luxurious Centurion series comes in a four-door hardtop and convertible, in addition to the hardtop coupe. Like all models in Buick's regular line, the Centurion features curved glass windows that are nearly flush with the outer body surface and cantilever roof styling. The Centurion is powered by Buick's 455 cubic inch engine. Variable ratio power steering and power brakes with front discs are standard on the Centurion.

Buick's Riviera Sport Coupe For 1971

The dramatic aerodynamic styling of Buick's Riviera sport coupe for 1971 is illustrated in this view of its tapered rear design with its unique window treatment. The Riviera has a completely new body with larger interior dimensions and 35 per cent more trunk space. It is powered by a 455 cubic inch engine with nickel plated exhaust valves for greater durability. Max Trac, a computerized drive control system which improves directional stability on slippery roads, is introduced as an option on the Riviera.

Porks, State Are Picked for Victory

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — TCU has been an early casualty in the Southwest Conference football race for each of the last 10 years.
And, the culprit has been Arkansas.
Since 1959, the pattern has been the same.
Arkansas and TCU would open Southwest Conference play with the Horned Frogs on the short end of the score and looking uphill. Only once did they make the long climb ... in 1959, they rebounded from a 3-0 loss to the Razorbacks to tie Arkansas and Texas for a share of the title.

The Razorbacks and the Frogs will do it again Saturday night at Fort Worth, Tex., with Arkansas given a two-touchdown edge by the oddsmakers.
The Frogs still have quarterback Steve Judy, who drove Arkansas batty last year while completing 22 passes for 240 yards. TCU's offense also features Bobby Davis, a 200-pound junior, who has rushed for 335 yards in three games.
TCU opened its season with a 31-7 victory over the University of Texas at Arlington, lost to Purdue 15-0 and tied Wisconsin 14-14.

Arkansas rebounded from a 34-28 loss to Stanford with a 23-7 victory over Oklahoma State and a 49-7 decision over Tulsa.
TCU must stop Arkansas quarterback Bill Montgomery, who has completed more than 70 per cent of his passes in the last two games and run the triple option with devastating effectiveness.

Arkansas' defense will be slightly patched up with defensive tackle Roger Harnish out for the season and the condition of his replacement, John Turner, still a question mark.
Somehow, Arkansas is always ready for TCU.

ARKANSAS 24, TCU 14.
Arkansas State University will bring the nation's No. 1 college division team to Little Rock to meet The Citadel.

While the Indians were savoring a hard-earned 12-3 victory over Southeast Louisiana last week, The Citadel was breaking into the victory column with a 31-0 decision over East Carolina.

The Citadel ruined ASU's Little Rock debut in 1967, and the Indians aren't about to forget. Besides, they like that No. 1 ranking.

ASU 21, CITADEL 10.
Arkansas Tech, preseason favorite in the Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference, takes on Henderson, last year's champion, Saturday at Russellville.

Henderson no longer has Tommy Hart at quarterback and the Wonder Boys have designs on the title.

TECH 21, HENDERSON 14.
Last week's percentage was .857.

Here are other predictions involving college teams in Arkansas:

Southern State 14, Harding 10.
Arkansas AM&N 21, Arkansas A&M 14.

Ouachita 10, Mississippi College 7.

NE Missouri 14, State College of Arkansas 7.

Could Be a Good Weekend for Phipps

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
This could be a memorable weekend for Mike Phipps in the National Football League.

The rookie Cleveland quarterback might start for the Browns against Pittsburgh in one of two Saturday night games that open the third week of the pro football season. Ten games are listed for Sunday and one for Monday night.

Phipps, who starred for Purdue last year, was the Browns' first-round draft pick. His chance for a starting berth came when Bill Nelsen, Cleveland's regular quarterback, suffered an injury to his right knee against San Francisco last week. Blanton Collier, Browns' coach, has indicated he will start either Phipps or Don Gault from Hofstra.

Personality, Office Queen Favored

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer
Personality and Office Queen, both 3-year-olds, are considered the horses to beat in the two $100,000 stakes that headline Saturday's thoroughbred racing program.

Personality, winner of the Wood Memorial, Jersey Derby, Preakness and Jim Dandy, heads the probable starters in the Woodward Stakes at Belmont Park.

Office Queen, who has won seven stakes this season, will be pitted against nine other fillies and mares in the Matchmaker Stakes at Atlantic City.

Personality is slated to carry 121 pounds against a probable small field in the 1 1/4 mile of the weight-for-age Woodward.

A victory is imperative for Mrs. Ethel D. Jacobs' colt if he is to remain a contender for the 3-year-old championship. In his most recent starts he has been beaten in the Travers, Governor Nicholls and Styrie Handicap.

Shuvee, a 4-year-old filly at 123 pounds, Hydrologist, a 4-year-old at 126, and two 3-year-olds, Loud and Judgable, both at 121, are expected to be other starters. Dust Commander, winner of the Kentucky Derby, and Happy Intellectual are possibilities.

Office Queen, owned by Stephen A. Calder, will carry 121 pounds in the Matchmaker at 13-16 miles. A victory would cement her claim to the 3-year-old filly title. She already has won the Jasmine, Minosa, Blackeyed Susan, Mother Goose, Cottillion and divisions of the Betsy Ross and Post-Deb.

Christiana Stable's 5-year-old mare, Obeah, will be the starting high weight under 123 pounds.

Rounding out the field is Fast Attack, Helen Jennings, Native Partner, Taken Aback, Dedicated To Sue, Watch Fob, Cold Comfort and Serene Queen.

The Matchmaker is unique in that the first three finishers, in addition to splitting up $50,000, also earn for their owners services to three outstanding stallions. This year the sires are Northern Dancer, Buckpasser and Jaipur.

rookie quarterback, suffered a mild concussion against Denver last week, but is expected to start for the Steelers in the game at Cleveland.

Odds makers Give Reds Slight Edge

By D. BYRON YAKE
Associated Press Sports Writer
PITTSBURGH (AP) — Cincinnati and Pittsburgh begin Saturday what Roberto Clemente refers to as the "Little World Series," the best-of-5 National League playoff games.

Odds makers give the Reds a slight edge.

Pittsburgh is host for the first two games.

Clemente, suffering from a back injury, didn't accompany the Pirates to St. Louis for the final three days of the season. But he is expected to be ready for Saturday.

Willie Stargell has been hobbling on a sore leg, but he's been doing that most of the season and should be rested enough to play.

Pitcher Bob Moose missed a turn at St. Louis due to a sore elbow. His status is uncertain.

In the opener the Pirates will go with Dock Ellis, 13-10, against the Reds' Gary Nolan, 18-7.

Luke Walker, 15-6, is expected to start Sunday in the second game against the Reds' Jim Merritt, their only 20-game winner.

Merritt had a special workout Wednesday and was pronounced fit. He had worked three innings last week after a three-week layoff due to an arm injury.

The Pirates will probably go with their usual lineup, spiced with a mixture of veterans and youth.

If Clemente plays, left-handed Al Oliver will be at first against Nolan, a right-hander; rookie Dave Cash is scheduled to start at second because of his recent hot bat, and Gene Alley will probably be at short. Richie Hebner, another lefty, will play third.

Stagell will be in left, Matty Alou in center and Clemente or Oliver in right.

If Oliver is in right, Bob Robertson or Oliver out of the line-up since they are the leading RBI hitters for the Pirates behind Stargell.

Manny Sanguillen, batting .326, will catch.
Lee May will be at first for Cincinnati, Tommie Helms, at second and Dave Concepcion at short. Tony Perez is the third baseman.

In left field will be Bernie Carbo, a candidate for rookie-of-the-year honors; Bobby Tolan will be in center and Pete Rose in right.

Johnny Bench, who could be the league's most valuable player with his .294 average, 45 home runs and 147 RBIs, is the catcher.

Citadel Has Been Trouble for A-State

By HARRY KING
Associated Press Writer
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Citadel has been bad news for Arkansas State University.

In 1969, ASU went 8-1-1, losing only to The Citadel 14-10.

In 1967, The Citadel ruined ASU's first appearance in War Memorial Stadium with a 20-7 decision.

The two teams did not meet in 1968.

Saturday night, the Indians have a chance for revenge — meeting the Bulldogs at Little Rock.

The Indians bring to town the nation's top-ranked college division football team.

"I don't think our people will have any trouble getting ready to play Citadel from an emotional standpoint," said ASU Coach Bennie Ellender.

"They're familiar to our present personnel and our players know it's going to be an extremely difficult assignment."

Ellender said the Bulldogs are a young team, the type that improves each week.
"They proved this by the way they handled East Carolina last week and by this time, they should have worked out a lot of problems brought out by inexperience," Ellender said.

The Citadel blanked East Carolina 31-0 last week after opening with a 24-0 loss to Clemson and a 53-0 loss to Vanderbilt.

Ellender saw a film of the Vanderbilt game.

"We saw the same good fundamental execution we expect from The Citadel," he said. "They have some fine personnel and they do a very good job running the Houston offense. I expect the same kind of ball game we had with them last year — close and rugged."

The Indians opened their season with an impressive 53-14 victory over Wichita State, a team with a major college classification. Last week, ASU had to work hard for a 12-3 victory over Southeast Louisiana.

"Under the circumstances, we didn't do a bad job," Ellender said. "They were ready for the beginning; a very bruising type of football game."

ASU's offense features the running of tailback Calvin Harrell and fullback Marshall Walls and run-pass threat of quarterback James Hamilton.

Harrell, a 213-pound junior from Memphis, gained more than 100 yards in all but one of the complete games he played in last season. He played little in the second half against Wichita and racked up 96 yards and then carried 32 times for 120 yards and the game's only touchdown last week.

Beman Ties Azalea Golf Course Record

By REESE HART
WILMINGTON, N. C. (AP) — "It was an easy round," said Deane Beman after he tied the course record with an eight-under-par 63 Thursday to take the first round lead in the Azalea Open Golf Tournament.

Beman, whose approach shots were deadly, had eight birdies and 10 pars in his 30-33 round, which equals the record on the 6,575-yard Cape Fear Country Club course.

Seventy of the 144 players broke par 71 as the course took a terrific beating the first day.

Wilf Homeniuk and George Johnson, seeking their first PGA tour victories, were tied for second with 65s. Homeniuk, who played the back nine first, roared away with six straight birdies and then leveled off with 12 pars in his 36-29 round. Johnson shot 34-31 with six birdies and 12 pars.

"I came so close to birdies on other holes," said Beman, who missed only one green in regulation. That was on the par four seventh, where he chipped up and got down for his par.
Defending champion Dale Douglas was six strokes off the pace at 69.

1971. Buick introduces a new set of values.

Value, not gimmicks or ornamentation, sells cars.
More people have been coming to Buick each year for just that reason. Buick concentrates on value.
And this year, Buick introduces a new set of values.
Features that will help make your new Buick perform better, last longer and get you more of a return on your investment at trade-in time.

Only a Buick dealer can offer you our new set of values. So, test your values against our new ones. Then ask yourself this simple question. Wouldn't you really rather have a Buick?

Something to believe in.

1971 Buick Riviera. A totally new design concept. And that's not all. Riviera offers MaxTrac, an exclusive power control system you can order with its own on-board computer. It helps you get securely over slick surfaces by reducing rear-wheel slipping. The new body features side-guard beams for protection, a bigger trunk, and a driver cockpit with a control center designed around the driver for new ease and convenience.

1971 Buick Electra 225. A new interpretation of quiet elegance. We've improved our Electra everywhere you look. There's more room in every direction, interiors that can be appreciated as much for their durability as for their beauty and comfort, even a new balanced braking system. A unique valve proportions braking force front to rear to help give you quick, smooth straight-line stops.

1971 Buick Skylark Custom. This is the car that has set the pace for value in its price class. Rocker panels that wash and dry themselves, big-Buick room and comfort inside, a cooling system that should never overheat, inner fenders that protect the outer fenders, and a modest price have put our Buick Skylark traditionally among the resale leaders in its class.

1971 Buick LeSabre. An incredible new offering of Buick value. The LeSabre, like the Riviera, Electra and Centurion, features AccuDrive, a new version of the directional stability system we pioneered. It will help give you smooth handling.

An Important Improvement. Every new Buick engine is now designed to run smoothly and efficiently, and with lower exhaust emissions, on no-lead and low-lead gasolines. And every Buick V-8 engine will have exclusive nickel-plated exhaust valves for smoother operation and longer valve life, and a new time-modulated choke to help give quicker warm-up and a more consistent fuel mixture.

"Simple pleasures, country people, solitude, the unexpected beauty of the commonplace, nature serene and inviolate, the quietude of the country—this is the repertory of Andrew Wyeth which evokes an antimaterialist image of America... he conveys his message with a personal accent which gives an alluring privacy to his art, a quality as rare as it is prized in our over-public age."

This quotation is from the catalog of a recent, major, Centennial exhibition at the Museum of Fine Arts, Boston, which provided a survey of Wyeth's work from 1942 to the present day. The exhibition, of 170 tempera, water color and dry brush paintings, was seen only in Boston and included works lent by over 80 public and private collections, 38 lent by the Wyeth family, and many recent works which had never been exhibited before. A small selection of these works is reproduced on this page.

Wyeth's homegrounds and the inspiration of all his paintings are Chadds Ford, Pa., where he was born in 1917 and where he and his wife, Betsy, still live, and Cushing, Me., where he spends long summers. Through the years he has chronicled a history of the land and its people, each painting characterized by the clear perception and elusive feeling which have made him the best loved artist in America.

Middle East Settlement Stalled Again

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
U.N. Middle East peace mediator Gunnar V. Jarring headed back to his regular diplomatic post in Moscow Friday, handing another setback to hopes for an Arab-Israeli settlement.

Secretary General U Thant said Jarring "has done all that he can do" and said the Swedish ambassador would resume his post in the Soviet Union temporarily. Thant said Jarring is expected to return to the U.N. headquarters in New York "around the middle of October," but could fly back within 24 hours if the situation warranted it.

In another development Friday, the top American envoy to the funeral of Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser met with new Egyptian leaders in Cairo and emphasized the need for continuing the cease-fire in the Middle East and resuming peace talks.

Elliot Richardson, U.S. secretary of health, education and welfare, said after the meeting with acting President Anwar Sadat that the discussions were "frank and cordial."

Richardson said he discussed the sale by the United States of Phantom fighter-bombers to Israel, as well as Israeli charges of Egyptian cease-fire violations. Israel has charged that Egypt is moving its anti-aircraft missile sites closer to the Suez Canal cease-fire zone in violation of the Aug. 7 truce.

Richardson said he found the Egyptians had a "genuine interest" in continuing the Middle East cease-fire and peace negotiations. The 90-day truce agreement is due to run out Nov. 1. Richardson said the United States would support an extension of the cease-fire if needed.

The U.S. official also met informally with Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin, but there was no word on what the two discussed, if anything. Kosygin also met with top Egyptian officials.

In Beirut, Lebanese authorities reported that 16 persons, including nine children, were killed in the wild shooting during the three days of mourning for Nasser.

Shooting in the air is a traditional Arab way of saluting a dead leader. Mourners also detonated explosions.

Officials said 76 persons were hospitalized with injuries—10 in serious condition—as a result of the gunfire and explosions during the mourning.

4th Seacoast Issue May Be Approved

WASHINGTON (AP) — A long-time dream of turning the Great Lakes into a thriving "fourth major seacoast" may be fulfilled under a far-reaching maritime bill on the verge of passage by Congress.

With its complex tax subsidies, tax breaks, and debt-forgiving features, officials say, the bill should clear the way for revitalizing the sagging shipping industry on the lakes.

"It puts the lakes on an equal footing with the other three coasts," said Robert J. Blackwell, assistant administrator of the Maritime Administration.

"It could be a turning point." The bill is primarily designed to rebuild the nation's merchant marine fleet but amendments adopted in the House and Senate expanded it to give a big boost to Great Lakes shipping.

The key provision appears to be opening a lucrative tax loophole to Great Lakes shipping companies, allowing them to defer corporate income tax payments in return for pledges to put the money into a special fund for new ship construction.

The hope is that the tax deferral provision will encourage new capital and more ships in the Great Lakes industry, Blackwell said.

Sen. Walter F. Mondale, D-Minn., said the tax break and a provision forgiving millions of dollars of interest owed by the St. Lawrence Seaway Development Corp. to the U.S. Treasury "should be a boon to shipping on the lakes."

Victory March Hope Is for a Million

By JOHN STOWELL
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Charging the Nixon administration is afraid of Communists, leaders of this weekend's "March for Victory" say they hope one million Americans will turn out with "flags and Bibles" to demonstrate for a military triumph in South Vietnam.

Washington police prepared for one-fourth that number. There were few, if any, early signs of a confrontation between prowar and antiwar factions.

The Rev. Carl McIntire, whose International Council of Christian Churches is organizing the rally, charges that President Nixon's "Vietnamization" of the war is deserting both the Vietnamese people and American soldiers and prisoners of war.

His worth while top drawing card, South Vietnamese Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky, had planned to come to the United States to address the rally but bowed out last weekend at the urging of government leaders here and in his own country.

An afternoon appearance by McIntire and a delegation of fundamentalist ministers at the Pentagon was the opening scheduled event for the weekend. A memorial service will be held on the Capitol steps tonight to honor Americans killed in the Southeast Asia war.

The march itself begins at noon Saturday, from the east end of the Mall along Pennsylvania Avenue to the Washington Monument for a rally.

At a pre-march dinner in suburban Maryland Thursday night, McIntire told a cheering crowd of 350 persons, "There'll be a hot time in the old town Saturday. We ought to have a million people in this city on Saturday."

Alternatively quoting from the Bible and newspaper clippings, he blamed Nixon and members of Congress for discouraging Ky's visit.

The boats are to be used by the Coast Guard.

Native of Southwest Arkansas Now Head of Oklahoma City College

By MARY ANITA LASETER
Star Feature Writer

He is a Favorite Son of Southwest Arkansas. Since 1958, he has been held in equally high esteem by people in Oklahoma City. He was inaugurated as president on Monday, September 21.

We are speaking of Dr. Dolphus Whitten, Jr., the new head of Oklahoma City University, who was born and reared in Southwest Arkansas where his father, Dolphus Whitten, Sr., was a druggist in Hope and Prescott and owned a drug store in Gurdon.

Neither of the Whitten sons, Dolphus, Jr. and Horace, followed in their father's professional footsteps and neither stayed in Arkansas. Instead, they migrated to Oklahoma and Louisiana, respectively.

We first knew Dolphus Whitten, Jr. when he was principal of Hope High School in the mid-1940's. Though he was small, physically, he was quite large, mentally. He was the kind of person who could substitute as a teacher on almost any subject and do it well. He commanded the respect of his pupils without demanding it. He taught school in Washington before coming to the Hope School System, and he was Dean of Men at Henderson State Teachers College after he left Hope.

He and his wife, the former Marie Braden of Little Rock, were members of the choir at the Methodist Church in Hope and also served as counselors for the Methodist Youth Fellowship here. They became the parents of a daughter, Suzanne, and those who remember her as a baby will find it hard to believe that she and her husband, Bob Guy, are in graduate school at the University of Illinois. Time doesn't fly; it zooms.

While psychology was not his field, Dolphus Whitten was good at practicing it. Once while he was principal at HHS, two husky boys got into a fight during the noon hour. A crowd gathered on the school ground and, at first, no one noticed that one of the spectators was the school principal. When someone spied him, the word buzzed around quickly and the fight slowed down. He didn't try to pull the boys apart or even to reprimand them. Instead, he told them quietly to come into the office WHEN THEY HAD FINISHED. He turned on his heel and left, but two foolish looking young men followed in short order.

Dr. Whitten isn't the only president in the family. Mrs. Whitten served as President of the WSCS in 1969 for the Oklahoma Conference of the Methodist Church. She is a pretty woman whose naturally curly hair became naturally gray while she was in her 20's. It would have been the envy of many a wig wearer today. Her gray coiffure was particularly lovely with the outfit she made from the gray and orange plaid her husband brought back from Scotland, when he returned from military service.

A graduate of Ouachita

College and the University of Texas, Dr. Dolphus Whitten, Jr. went to the Methodist co-educational school in Oklahoma City in 1958 as administrative dean and professor of history. In 1961 his title was changed to vice-president for administration. Twice he served as acting president but refused the official title for fear he would not be able to have as close a relationship with the students if he were their president. Finally, on January 7 of this year he was named president by the board of trustees, and ten days ago he was inaugurated.

Jordan Will Recognize Only One Group

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Jordan's new government said Thursday it would recognize only one Palestinian guerrilla organization, Al Fatah, headed by Yasser Arafat. Arab truce teams persuaded guerrillas and army troops to stop shooting at each other in Palestinian strongholds in northern Jordan.

Maj. Adnan Abu Odeh, Jordan's information minister, said the move to recognize only Al Fatah was not a measure against the Palestinians. "We are against chaos and disorder," he said. "I tell you, the struggle in Jordan has been between the government and the Marxists."

Odeh suggested that members of other guerrilla groups join Al Fatah. The Jordanian government has offered a $14,000 reward for the capture of Dr. George Habash, head of the Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine, a pro-Peking guerrilla group responsible for the recent spate of airline hijackings to the Middle East.

In Beirut, Lebanon, an Al Fatah spokesman said Amman government forces and guerrillas were persuaded to lay down their weapons at Ramtha, a Jordanian border town on the Damascus-Amman highway, the commandos' principal supply route from Syria.

The guerrilla spokesman said Ramtha and nearby Irbid, Jordan's second largest city, were quiet after reports of shelling by Jordanian troops earlier in the day.

Jordan's King Hussein said the truce that ended his country's civil war was largely the work of Egypt's President Gamal Abdel Nasser, who died Monday of a heart attack.

A correspondent for the Parisian newspaper Figaro, Jean-Francois Chauvel, wrote that Hussein said Nasser "threw all his weight into the balance" in negotiations for the cease-fire and "it was thanks to him" that it succeeded.

President to London for Conference

By FRANK CORMIER
Associated Press Writer

LONDON (AP) — President Nixon, nearing the end of his European trip, arrived in London today for a five-hour visit including lunch with Queen Elizabeth II and Prime Minister Edward Heath.

The two-hour conference between Nixon and Heath is expected to cover East-West relations, the Middle East and economic problems.

Nixon and Heath, whose Conservative party upset Harold Wilson's Labor forces in June, fly by helicopter to Chequers, Heath's official country residence 30 miles northwest of London, for a luncheon with Queen Elizabeth II.

Later, the President's party goes to Ireland, where he meets at Limerick Sunday morning with Ambassador David K. E. Bruce, head of the U.S. delegation at the Indochina peace talks in Paris, and other key Southeast Asia advisers.

Presidential press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said the Limerick talks will produce "no major announcements" but he indicated that Nixon and Bruce could decide on some change in the U.S. bargaining position.

The President wants Bruce to "recommend any new vital approaches he thinks might be useful," Ziegler said. He reiterated the administration's position that Bruce has "a wide degree of flexibility" in conducting the peace talks.

The five-hour British visit is the shortest of Nixon's 12,000-mile, five-nation European journey. It precedes a five-day visit the prime minister plans in Washington this month.

Sources said Nixon and Heath would discuss complications caused in the Middle East by the death of Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser last Monday and problems concerning the financing of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Sources said they probably also would discuss the Soviet Union's apparently toughening positions in the Middle East, Cuba and Berlin. The British Foreign Office disclosed Friday that the Soviets tried last week to close two air corridors into West Berlin, but backed down and allowed Western military aircraft to pass unmolested. Also, the Pentagon says it has evidence that the Russians are constructing what appears to be a submarine base in Cuba, and Soviet leaders repeatedly have urged the United States to abandon its policy of supplying arms to Israel.

Lists Things That Cause Campus Riots

BOULDER, Colo. (AP) — America's entry into Cambodia and the Jackson and Kent State shootings produced the most intense reaction on colleges and universities with the highest academic admission policies, a survey by the Carnegie Commission on Higher Education concluded today.

The commission said a nationwide survey of 2,551 college and university presidents, with 73 per cent responding, showed a "quite striking" relationship between schools' admission standards and campus turbulence last spring.

The study also concluded that colleges and universities in the Northeast showed greater reaction than elsewhere in the United States.

Results of the commission's profile on campus turbulence were announced by Dr. Clark Kerr, commission chairman and former president of the University of California, Berkeley.

The commission said colleges and universities that admit freshmen from the top 10 per cent of high school classes had more reaction than schools with open admission policies. The study made no comment on this finding.

AIDC Changes State Image

MONTREAL (AP) — The Arkansas Industrial Development Commission has changed the image of Arkansas from an agricultural state to an industrial state, according to Adrian Williamson Jr., executive director of the AIDC.

Williamson made the statement Thursday at a meeting of the Kiwanis Club of Montreal. He said some 3,000 new industries have developed in Arkansas in the 15 years since the commission was established.

Inspection of Big Jumbo Jets Ordered

By JOHN S. LANG
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The federal government has quietly ordered the nation's airlines to inspect the engines of all 747 jumbo jets because of similar engine failures and fires during two flights.

The order was issued two weeks ago by the Federal Aviation Administration but was not disclosed until Thursday when the National Transportation Safety Board reported that 747 engines are "normally operating near critical turbine temperature conditions."

The safety board urged the FAA to take quick steps to avoid "potentially catastrophic results." The FAA did not respond immediately, but scheduled a news conference today.

The safety board said it found evidence that excessive temperatures caused similar engine failures on two 747 flights.

An explosion and fire damaged an American Airlines 747 on takeoff from San Francisco on Sept. 18, but the plane with 142 persons aboard landed safely. An Air France 747 had similar failure Aug. 17 on a Montreal-to-Paris flight but also landed safely.

The FAA said it ordered inspection of all 747 engines the day after the American Airlines engine failures, which a safety board spokesman described as "a very near thing—it nearly crashed."

The safety board did not call for grounding of the huge jetliners, which can carry more than 300 passengers, but urged the FAA "to initiate further expeditious actions in order to preclude recurrence of similar failures."

Although the FAA refused to release its inspection order immediately, The Associated Press obtained a copy of a telegram purportedly sent the same day to airlines by the engine manufacturer, Pratt & Whitney, recommending urgent inspection of all engines.

The telegram said preliminary investigation revealed "disc failure resulted from contact with the second stage turbine stator inner shroud."

A Boeing Co. spokesman in Seattle, asked about the reports, said the firm has "highest confidence" in the jumbo jets, noting they have carried "more than two million people."

"All engine problems have received immediate exhaustive attention with fixes identified and safety margins insured," the spokesman added.

After the safety board reported its findings Thursday, a Pratt & Whitney spokesman said, "We have great faith in our JT9D engine and in the FAA's actions that they have taken."

An earlier inspection order by the FAA titled "Priority One" and dated Aug. 27—ten days after the Air France engine failure—directed the airlines to inspect 10 per cent of the 747 engines within the next 100 hours time in service.

This order said it confirmed agreements the FAA reached during meetings with the airlines, Pratt & Whitney, Boeing Aircraft, the Air Transport Association and the Safety Board.

An FAA spokesman said a special industry-government task force had been meeting privately for several weeks to discuss 747 engine failures and had the fifth such meeting Wednesday.

Plane Crash Claims 29 in Colorado

By CARL R. HILLIARD
Associated Press Writer
SILVER PLUME, Colo. (AP)

The cream of the Wichita State University football team, its top athletic officials and some of its most loyal fans were killed Friday when their game-bound plane crashed into a mountainside while trying to cross the Continental Divide.

Twenty-nine persons, 13 of them players, were killed. Eleven persons—including nine players, a copilot and a team trainer—survived.

The Colorado State Patrol said there was no chance of other survivors among the 40 persons listed as passengers and crew on the twin-engine Martin 404.

The aircraft, dubbed the "Gold Plane" by the team, was one of two taking the squad, its coaching staff and boosters to Logan, Utah, for a game today with Utah State, where the Shockers hoped to break a three-game losing streak.

The other plane, the "Black Plane," arrived safely with 34 persons, including 23 players and five assistant coaches, aboard. The game was called off and the rest of the 11-game season probably will be canceled.

Among those presumed dead were the athletic director, A. C. "Bert" Katzenmeyer; the head football coach, Ben Wilson; Kansas State Rep. Ray King and Wichita Banker John Grooms and their wives.

The list also included Marvin Brown, the team's second leading rusher; Gene Robinson, the Shockers' top pass receiver; and Ray Coleman of Wichita, membership chairman of the Shockers Club, a booster organization. Tradition decreed that top players traveled with the head coach.

The crash, a few minutes after a refueling stop in Denver, plunged the campus at the 12,000-student school into mourning.

The other plane was impounded by the Federal Aviation Administration in Utah and its occupants were to return to Wichita on commercial flights today. Cause of the crash was undetermined.

A university information officer, Doug Lewis, said the university leased the plane from Golden Eagle Aviation, which apparently leased the craft from someone else, but he didn't know who. He said Golden Eagle "told us the plane didn't belong to them." Golden Eagle provided the crew.

The plane was a short-range airliner of a type built in the late 1940s and early 1950s. The plane impounded at Logan is a Martin 202, smaller version of the 404.

One week ago, one of two planes chartered by Wichita State ran off the runway and was damaged. The second charter plane shuttled the team to Canyon, Tex., for its game with West Texas State University. University spokesmen said it was unknown whether the same planes were used for the trips to Texas and Utah.

The ill-fated plane, with one engine smoking, crashed into the east side of 11,992-foot Loveland Pass about 800 feet below the summit, just below timberline.

"The plane tried to land in the highway in front of us," said Mrs. George Grunwald of Huntington Beach, Calif., who was driving down the mountainside on winding U.S. 6 with her husband. "By the grace of God he zoomed up so he didn't hit us. He took a 45-degree turn and went over a little ledge on the side of the mountain."

There was a "big ball of fire and immense black smoke" as the plane vanished into the tall spruce trees with a series of loud explosions, she said.

Strewed about the crash area were orange jerseys, gold helmets with a black "W" on the side, shoulder pads and other team equipment.

$1 Billion for Mexican, Americans

WASHINGTON (AP) — A little-publicized agency, created to give Mexican-Americans a toe-hold in the free-enterprise system, is seeking to place $1 billion in capital under direct control of Spanish-speaking people within five years.

In its first month as liaison between the Spanish-speaking community and federal lending agencies, the National Economic Development Association—NEDA—has processed $5 million in loan applications.

"Our goal for the first year is $50 million," Ben Fernandez, head of NEDA, said in an interview.

"We believe this is the way to effect economic and social change—and we are doing it within the system at virtually no cost to the American taxpayer," he said. "We don't want a handout. All we want is the opportunity to compete."

NEDA has a three-phase program: advising Spanish-speaking Americans seeking to start or expand a business; guaranteeing scholarships and on-the-job business training for students; and attempting to break Mexican-Americans into financial ownership.

NEDA figures capitalization must be the base of any such undertaking, and aims to help organize 50 savings and loan associations and 50 banks—all managed by Spanish-speaking businessmen—within two years.

The firm that made famous the woolen outdoor shirt for men and in 1949 introduced the '49er jacket for women used these items as a base for their present complete collection of co-ordinated separates for women. Wool plaid, shaped country coat in sunset tones (left) is teamed with matching straight leg pants and brick-red ribbed body sweater. Rosy red authentic MacGill tartan plaid (right) is used in wool-lined, two-pocket tunic and matching pants. These, as are all Pendleton designs, are production-controlled by the firm from raw wool to finished fashion.

Ky Decision Is Final

PARIS (AP) — A spokesman for Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky of South Vietnam says his decision to pass up a "win-the-war" rally in Washington this weekend is final.

The Rev. Carl McIntire, promoter of the event, had said Ky might change his mind after announcing earlier that he had decided not to accept an invitation to address the rally.

Ky's prospective appearance had aroused critical comment in Congress and elsewhere.

His spokesman said Wednesday Ky would visit the United States at some later unspecified date.

DOCTOR'S MAILBAG More Susceptible to TB If Test Is Positive

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Q—How does a positive tuberculin skin test look? Is it serious?

A—Within 24 to 72 hours after the tuberculin is introduced into the skin an area of thickened reddened skin 6mm or more in diameter is seen. This does not mean that you have active tuberculosis — only that at one time in your life you had the disease. It could have been either mild or severe but, in either case, you are more susceptible to the disease than a person whose test is negative.

Q—How does one get tuberculosis? How can it be prevented? Can it be cured?

A—The most usual way the disease is acquired is by inhaling the minute droplets exhaled in coughing, laughing or talking by a person with active tuberculosis or by kissing such a person. The chief means of prevention is early recognition of persons with active tuberculosis and their treatment in a sanitarium.

Although treatment must be prolonged (18 to 24 months), the disease can be cured with modern drugs. Relapses often occur, however, in persons who fail to get sufficient treatment or

Director Is Cleared

QUINCY, Mass. (AP) — Film director Otto Preminger has been cleared of a charge of desecrating a cemetery by filming actress Lisa Minnelli nude among the graves in a scene from "Tell Me That You Love Me, Junie Moon."

Preminger told Judge James A. Mulhall in District Court Wednesday he had a contract with the owner of Blue Hill Cemetery in Braintree to use the graveyard for the scene. Counsel for the Town of Braintree, which brought the charge, said he had failed to obtain permission of individual grave plot owners.

The judge dismissed the charge.

Braintree Police Chief John V. Polio testified Miss Minnelli took off all her clothes during the cemetery filming July 31, 1969, but police Lt. Peter D'Amico said she was clad in flesh-colored material next to her body.

Raps Assaults on Officers

WASHINGTON (AP) — J. Edgar Hoover, FBI director, says only "an aroused citizenry and swift and certain punishment by the courts" can turn back the increasing number of assaults on policemen.

Hoover made his remarks in the October issue of the FBI's Law Enforcement Bulletin.

"When a law enforcement officer dies at the hands of a killer," he said, "part of our system of law dies with him."

fail to report for periodic checkups after they appear to be cured.

Q—I have tuberculosis and am taking Pasalet and isoniazid. Will they cure this disease? What are their side effects?

A—These drugs will cure you if the treatment is carried on long enough. Isoniazid may cause dizziness, drowsiness, headache and nausea. Pasalet should not be taken by anyone with a kidney, liver or stomach ailment.

Q—What effect does alcohol have on a person who has tuberculosis?

A—Since such a person needs all the strength and resistance he can build up to combat his disease, he should avoid alcohol. Excessive use of alcohol interferes with proper nutrition. Furthermore, it is the cause of many tuberculous patients failing to take their disease seriously and failing to continue treatment until they are completely cured.

Q—A man who lived in our apartment building was hospitalized for a year for tuberculosis. His apartment was never fumigated. Now he is cured and has come back. Is there any danger of getting tuberculosis from his apartment?

A—No. Fumigation is not required.

In JACOBY MODERN, when you follow a Stayman two-club response by a bid of three in either minor suit, you are making a mild slam invitation.

The opening bidder can accept the invitation by bidding another suit if his no-trump looks slamish.

South certainly felt that his hand would produce a slam. His 17 points appeared to be working points. Aces are the best slam cards, kings next best and, assuming that North was heading for a spade slam, the queen of spades had to be of prime importance. He accepted the idea of a slam by bidding three diamonds.

North's three-spade call confirmed spades as the suit and South made a further slam try by bidding four hearts. This gave North a chance to go into Blackwood and, after South showed three aces, North decided that a grand slam might well be in the cards.

His five-no-trump call asked for kings but it did more at the same time. It told South that North was interested in getting to seven. South might have shown his one king but came to the conclusion that the king of clubs and queen of spades were what was needed for seven, so South bid the grand slam.

Some care was needed in the play. If South had hurried to draw trumps, the bad-club-break would have beaten him but South allowed for this.

He ruffed a heart at trick two, played the king of spades and a low spade to his 10. He ruffed his last heart with dummy's last trump, went back to his hand with the ace of diamonds, drew West's last trump while discarding the last low diamond from dummy, played clubs, ruffing out East's 10, and made the last two tricks with dummy's king of diamonds and fifth club.

YOUTH ASKED FOR IT!

This column is for young people, their problems and pleasures, their troubles and fun. As with the rest of Helen Help Us!, it welcomes laughs but won't dodge a serious question with a brush-off.

Send your teenage questions to YOUTH ASKED for it, care of Helen Help Us! this newspaper.

"YOU KNOW" HAS TAKEN PLACE OF "I MEAN" IN TEEN LANGUAGE

Dear Helen:

May an elder make a comment in a youth column?

I think the kids are great, but do they have to intersperse "You know" between every three or four words they say? —MR. C.

Dear Mr. C.:

"You know" to this generation is what "I mean" was to ours. Remember when we couldn't make it through one sentence without three or four "I mean's" scattered around?

One good way to break the habit: Write letters by tape, then play them back before mailing. When you become aware of your repetitions you gradually eliminate them. —H.

Dear Helen:

I've heard it five times already: "Tammy, we're just too good friends to go together."

The last time really hurt because I liked the boy a lot. Then he told me I was just like a little sister to him.

At first the boys think I'm great because I'm "different," then suddenly they're gone. I was raised with high ideals and morals. Does this make me some sort of touch-me-not? Should I lower my standards? —TAMMY

Dear Tammy:

No, but perhaps you shouldn't wave the banner quite so obviously. —H.

Dear Helen:

Looking back to my freshman year, I got to thinking what an A-1 fool I've been.

I was very popular when I started high school, and of course it went to my head. I dated the best guys, went with the greatest gang—and dumped them when I thought I saw something better.

After taking my pick of the football team, I finally settled on Joe who had a tuff car and popularity all over the place. My friends told me to hang on to him, but oh no—along came Terry, and he got me started on drugs. That was in my sophomore year. After I dropped him, I liked Dave because he could get me all the drugs I wanted. Soon everybody knew I was on the stuff.

I drifted through 1969, getting bad grades and a worse reputation. Then I kind of woke up and discovered I really loved Joe, and begged him back. Like any normal boy, he took his revenge by the "prove your love" thing, and two months later he was engaged to another

Twins Plotting to Challenge Favored Birds

By PAT THOMPSON

Associated Press Sports Writer MINNEAPOLIS-ST. PAUL (AP) — The Minnesota Twins plotted simple strategy to challenge the favored Baltimore Orioles in the American League championship series that opens Saturday at Metropolitan Stadium.

Manager Bill Rigney practically concedes the Orioles will provide glittering pitching from left-handers Mike Cuellar, 24-8, and Dave McNally, 24-9, and right-hander Jim Palmer, 20-10. "The secret of our winning is containing their hitters," said Rigney. "Our pitchers have got to hold them because we know they're going to throw good pitching. We have to match them."

Rigney sends his only ace, right-hander Jim Perry, 24-12, out to stop the major league's winningest team in the 4 p.m., EDT, opener against Cuellar. Left-hander Tommy Hall, 11-6 with 184 strikeouts in 1551-3 innings, opposes McNally at 4 p.m. Sunday. The best of 5 series moves to Baltimore Monday with Palmer going against rookie Bert Blyleven, 10-9. Frank Len, Baltimore scout who spent this week checking out the Twins, agreed with Rigney's theory and said that the Orioles probably would have to take the same attitude.

Rigney will go with Cesar Tovar in center, Leo Cardenas at shortstop, Harmon Killebrew at third, Tony Oliva in right, Rich Reese at first, Brant Aleya in left, George Mitterwald catching and Danny Thompson at second. Baltimore, with the same lineup, swept the Twins in three straight games of the 1969 play-offs—4-3 in 11 innings, 3-2 in 12 innings and 11-2. But with Killebrew slamming six of his 41 home runs, the Twins took a 7-5 edge in the 1970 regular season.

With 1969 batting champion Rod Carew limited to pinch hitting because of knee surgery in June, the Twins have lost some of their hitting edge. Frank Robinson was Baltimore's lone .300 hitter. Oliva and Tovar made it for the Twins. Killebrew and Powell were almost even in RBIs.

Baltimore's bullpen has more depth, led by Dick Hall's 10-5 record, but the Twins have effective stoppers in Stan Williams, 10-1, and Ron Perranoski, 34 saves. Oddsmakers have made the Orioles 3-2 favorites to qualify for their fourth World Series in the last five years.

The good, old days occur when you're too young to appreciate them.

An old-timer is one who recalls when the Old Man couldn't possibly get back from a coast-to-coast business trip in less than four days.

Experiment, men: Drop a package and see how many women's lib gals are emancipated enough to pick it up for you.

And then there's the sharpie housing operator who was caught-up with: A case of arrested development.

For the shop types who shun safety glasses: Cheer up, your friends will be able to tell you how natural your glass eyes look.

One of the great mysteries of all time is what happened to the end of the perfectly fascinating story that began on Page 1 of our favorite paper recently.

Bobcats in 14 to 0 Win Over Malvern

By BILL MOORE
Star Sports Writer

Showing some explosive power and capitalizing on Malvern's mistakes, the Hope Bobcats shutout the Leopards, 14-0, for their second straight conference victory.

Hope's record is now 4-1 and they will travel to Crossett to take on the Eagles in another conference battle.

For the first few minutes both offenses were stopped, but with 8:12 left in the first quarter, Hope took possession of the ball at the enemy 46 yard line.

Four plays netted 15 yards to the Leopard 31, and on a fourth and seven situation, Ronnie Massanelli hit Rusty Quillin, who broke four tackles, to complete a 31 yard scoring play with 6:58 left. Tim White's extra point gave the Bobcats a quick 7-0 lead.

Malvern took the kickoff and could only get two yards before a punt pinned Hope back at their own seven yard line. The Bobcats ground out breathing room to the 26, before having to punt.

This time it was Malvern's turn to roll, and they did. Malvern gained sizable chunks of yardage to the Hope 10 yard line, for a first down with 4:38 left in the half.

Roy McEmore got five yards to the Bobcat 5, but on the next play the ball was knocked out of McEmore's hands by Clifton Peevy and recovered on the three by Bubba Powers.

Moving up to the 13, the Bobcats punted out of trouble and seconds later the first half was over.

So far it was mostly a defensive battle, and unless something unusual happened, it would be a very tight game. Eventually the statistics proved that.

Malvern took the second half kickoff and pushed their way to the Hope 30, on the running of McEmore and Jackie Ames. But with 7:49 left in the period, Lynn Norton recovered a Leopard fumble and another Malvern drive was spoiled.

This proved to hurt the Leopards, because on the next play Gary Don Jones carried for six yards to start Hope on a 69 yard drive.

Two first downs put the Cats on the Malvern 40 with 4:37 left in the third segment. Massanelli hit Gary Wheelington for a 12 yard pass to the 26 and with some good quarterback scrambling, Hope moved to Leopard 8 yard line.

Facing a third and eight, Buddy Ingram hooked in and took a perfect pass while stepping over the goal for the second Bobcat score. White's second PAT was good for a 14-0 lead with only about one quarter left.

Norton's kick went into the end zone and Malvern would have to travel 80 yards if they were to score. The Leopards moved to the Bobcat 33 but on a fourth down play Sidney Waller intercepted a long pass at the Bobcat six yard line to spoil yet another drive.

Ten minutes later, after Quillin had recovered another Leopard fumble, it was all over with the Bobcats once again winners.

This will be a big boost for the Bobcats and should help them on their way into the rest of the season.

You certainly can't forget what a great game some of the others played. The offensive line of Randy Wright, Calvin Willis, Rodney Burke, Tim White, and Richard Butler, and of course the defensive players as well, with Clifton Peevy, Lynn Norton, Sidney Waller, Bubba Powers, Steve Harris, Winston Franks, and Stan James, all deserve a lot of credit for their fine performances.

Both units showed up pretty good against the Leopards, who are always tough and usually with good teams.

The Bobcats will now prepare for Crossett, and the B-team will travel to Texarkana, Texas for a 7:30 game on Monday.

Pirates and Reds Tangle in Playoff

By RALPH BERNSTEIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Apparently, opposing managers in the National League playoff weren't concerned with past performance when they chose starting pitchers for today's first game of the best-of-5 series.

Cincinnati skipper Sparky Anderson is going with Gary Nolan, who has never won a game at Pittsburgh, and Pirates' boss Danny Murtaugh is relying on Dock Ellis, who lost three times without a victory against the Reds this year.

Neither were Anderson and Murtaugh concerned over the possibility that the regular NL umpires were involved with the league in a money dispute and might be replaced by minor league arbiters. At least they said nothing about it.

The cold statistics aren't bothering either Nolan or Ellis. "I don't feel any different," said Nolan who posted an 18-7 record for the Western Division champion Reds. "I think the key to beating the Pirates is to keep the first two hitters off the bases, so if one of their power guys hits one, nobody is on."

Ellis, who won 13 and lost 10, says he's going to challenge the Reds' big bats with his money pitch—the fast ball.

"I've got to go out there and challenge them," said the 25-year-old Pirates' right-hander. "If I try to finesse them I'm in trouble. It's a new ball game. I've pitched against clubs before who have beaten me three times and I've won."

The Reds clinched the West Division title early, winning by 14 games, and played the final month without pressure. The Pirates, however, had to go to the final week before wrapping up the East. Anderson and Murtaugh were asked if this would have any bearing on the outcome.

"I don't think so," said Anderson, the Reds' rookie manager. "We realize the importance of this series and everybody is ready. There is no problem there. Incidentally, we won nine of our last 12. We have the best club in baseball and a good club isn't going to worry about this. It didn't have any affect last year. The Mets won early and whopped Atlanta three in a row. Murtaugh was on the same opinion. He didn't think his club had momentum because of the tight finish. "I don't think that means a thing. Both clubs know what they're fighting for. That they (Reds) had it easy doesn't mean a thing."

The odds makers have made the Reds a slight favorite on the basis of their 102 regular season victories. Anderson has the leading home run hitter in the league in catcher Johnny Bench, 45; the top two RBI guys in bench, 148 and third baseman Tony Perez, 129; the league's leading base stealer in Bobby Tolson, 57; the top reliever in Wayne Granger, 35 saves; and Pete Rose, tied for No. 1 at getting base hits, 205.

The Pirates won their division with 89 victories and the lowest won-lost percentage in history, dropping the season series to the Reds 8-4. Murtaugh, however, feels he has the most underrated team in baseball.

"I think this is a good club as there is in baseball," he said. "That 8-4 edge for the Reds doesn't mean a thing in a short series."

The Pirates received good news Friday when their best hitter, Roberto Clemente, tried out his sore back and reported he was free of pain. Murtaugh announced Clemente, who missed 18 of the Pirates' last 22 games, would be in right field. Clemente had a .352 average.

Pittsburgh is counting on outfielder Willie Stargell, who hit 31 homers, to provide the Pirates' power. Matty Alou .297 Rich Hebner, .290 Manny Sanguillen, .325, and Bob Robertson, .287, 27 homers, make Murtaugh's team one of the top hitting clubs in baseball.

The first two games in the series are in Pittsburgh with the third, and fourth and fifth games if necessary, in Cincinnati. The winner meets the survivor of the American League playoff between Baltimore and Minnesota in the World Series.

Umps Meet to Talk Over Latest Offer

CHICAGO (AP) — Representatives of the Major League Umpires Association and their attorney, John Reynolds, met Thursday night in a Chicago hotel reportedly discussing baseball's latest pay offer to prevent a threatened strike.

The Chicago Sun-Times said the new offer was for $3,000 for the playoff series starting Saturday and $7,000 for the World Series.

The newspaper also said: "It seems quite likely that a strike will be averted ... A compromise of $4,000 for the playoffs and $8,000 for the series may be acceptable to the umpires group."

Neither Reynolds nor an umpire representative could be reached while their private meetings were going on.

The umpires, paid $2,500 for playoffs and $6,500 for the series last year, are asking $5,000 and $10,000.

They have called a meeting of all 50 members gathered at the hotel for today, presumably for a strike vote or a vote on any compromise.

Meanwhile, baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn in New York, said "every effort is being made to reach an agreement ... Whatever the outcome, the league championships and World Series will be played as scheduled."

The best-of-five league playoffs open Saturday with Baltimore at Minnesota for the American League title and Cincinnati at Pittsburgh for the National League crown. The best-of-seven World Series will open Oct. 10.

Twelve umpires, six in each league, are assigned to the playoffs. Six, three from each league, are assigned to the World Series.

In case of a walkout, it was suggested umpires may be recruited from the minor leagues, whose umpires are not members of the association.

Augie Donatelli, a National League umpire who is a director of the association, said a spokesman for the minor league umpires had assured him that they would engage in strike-breaking activities.

Meanwhile, Marvin Miller, executive director of the Major League Players Association, said that "the players would be disturbed to have something less than the caliber of major league umpires working the games." He indicated that in case of a strike the players couldn't give much more than sympathy and moral support.

"We signed a new basic agreement early this year with club owners and the players must live up to their contract," said Miller.

Gary Cuozzo: Kapping The Vikes' Big Ache

By MARTY RALBOVSKY

BLOOMINGTON, Minn.—(NEA)—The Minnesota Vikings had just completed another victory in a preseason game, and Gary Cuozzo was standing in front of his locker, peeling off adhesive, wiggling out of shoulder pads and untying a variety of laces.

He was talking about the way he has spent the last seven off-seasons.

"I've been going to dental school," he said. "Seven springs it took me, but I've finally completed the work. Now I can look everybody in the family straight in the eye."

"Family?" he was asked.

"Yes," said Cuozzo. "My whole family is involved in dentistry. My father and my brother are dentists. My sister is a dental hygienist who's married to a dentist, and his father and brother are dentists, too."

Preliminaries over, Dr. Cuozzo sat down on a wooden stool and waited for the inevitable questions about Joe Kapp. They came: "Do you think Kapp will return?" "Do you think the Vikings will call his bluff?"

"I don't know what Joe is thinking right now," he answered, "but I'd have to say the plans are in motion to go without him. We haven't looked too bad so far; we're moving the ball and scoring points. I'm not saying we don't miss him because we do. He's a different personality than I am, more outgoing, more forceful. But I'd say we've resigned ourselves to the fact that if Joe decides not to play, then O.K., let's get on with it."

Kapp has been incommunicado since his contract problems mushroomed into a holdout; two of the Vikings tried to contact him by phone and his lawyer told them he wasn't taking any calls. He is asking for a contract that runs five years and will pay him in excess of $17,000 per game.

"We all know Joe's personality," said Cuozzo. "He's strong-willed and takes a lot of pride in not backing down. But a lot of us are surprised it's gone this far. Nobody's heard from Joe, he hasn't come around, and a couple of the guys were kinda mad when they tried to call Joe and he wouldn't take the call. They just wanted to know what was going on, whether he's been throwing or running, that sort of thing.

"But I'm sure if Joe got things straightened out, and came back, the whole thing would be forgotten. Meanwhile, I guess you could say I'm in the middle of an unpredictable situation."

Such situations, however, are not new to Cuozzo. He was No. 2 quarterback behind Johnny Unitas at Baltimore, didn't play enough to suit himself and asked to be traded. He was—to New Orleans, where he sat behind Bill Kilmer. Last season, of course, he backed up Kapp although he was starting quarterback when the season opened.

As for the fans in Minnesota, Kapp's escapade has reduced his stature considerably in their eyes. Although the highways leading into Minneapolis are dotted with billboards picturing a smiling Joe Kapp and reading, "Joe Kapp Can't Lose With Instant Credit," people making their way into Metropolitan Stadium rarely smile at the mention of his name.

Some even came prepared with signs that leave no doubts about their feelings. The most popular one reads: "The Vikes Are Not Kappatalists"

WILMINGTON, N. C. (AP)—Richard Crawford of Bella Vista, Ark., fired a three-under-par 68 Thursday in the first round of the Azalea Open golf tournament.

Crawford, who had nines of 34-34, was five shots off the pace set by Deane Beman.

The Hope Ladies Golf Association was host to its second invitational golf tournament recently. Clubs represented were from Magnolia, Gurdon, Little Rock, Hot Springs, Texarkana, Northridge, El Dorado and Longview, Tex.

Mrs. John Wilson and Mrs. Henry Fenwick registered entrants as they arrived, and Mrs. Don Freel and Mrs. Al Graves served coffee and doughnuts in the dining room prior to the 10 a.m. shot gun start.

Mrs. Brack Schenck and Mrs. Don Freel served sandwiches and drinks for lunch after 9 holes of golf. Although the second 9 was interrupted by rain, most of the golfers finished play.

Dinner and the awarding of prizes followed play with Mrs. Henry Seamans, President of the Hope L. G. A., welcoming the 45 golfers and guests. Mrs. Jim Pruden, general chairman of the event, introduced her committees and Al Graves, who awarded the prizes to the winners.

Middle East Settlement Stalled Again

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
U.N. Middle East peace mediator Gunnar V. Jarring headed back to his regular diplomatic post in Moscow Friday, handing another setback to hopes for an Arab-Israeli settlement.

Secretary General U Thant said Jarring "has done all that he can do" and said the Swedish ambassador would resume his post in the Soviet Union temporarily. Thant said Jarring is expected to return to the U.N. headquarters in New York "around the middle of October," but could fly back within 24 hours if the situation warranted it.

In another development Friday, the top American envoy to the funeral of Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser met with new Egyptian leaders in Cairo and emphasized the need for continuing the cease-fire in the Middle East and resuming peace talks.

Elliot Richardson, U.S. secretary of health, education and welfare, said after the meeting with acting President Anwar Sadat that the discussions were "frank and cordial."

Richardson said he discussed the sale by the United States of Phantom fighter-bombers to Israel, as well as Israeli charges of Egyptian cease-fire violations. Israel has charged that Egypt is moving its anti-aircraft missile sites closer to the Suez Canal cease-fire zone in violation of the Aug. 7 truce.

Richardson said he found the Egyptians had a "genuine interest" in continuing the Middle East cease-fire and peace negotiations. The 90-day truce agreement is due to run out Nov. 1.

Richardson said the United States would support an extension of the cease-fire if needed. The U.S. official also met informally with Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin, but there was no word on what the two discussed, if anything. Kosygin also met with top Egyptian officials.

In Beirut, Lebanese authorities reported that 16 persons, including nine children, were killed in the wild shooting during the three days of mourning for Nasser.

Shooting in the air is a traditional Arab way of saluting a dead leader. Mourners also detonated explosions.

Officials said 76 persons were hospitalized with injuries—10 in serious condition—as a result of the gunfire and explosions during the mourning.

4th Seacoast Issue May Be Approved

WASHINGTON (AP) — A long-time dream of turning the Great Lakes into a thriving "fourth major seacoast" may be fulfilled under a far-reaching maritime bill on the verge of passage by Congress.

With its complex tax subsidies, tax breaks, and debt-forgiving features, officials say, the bill should clear the way for revitalizing the sagging shipping industry on the lakes.

"It puts the lakes on an equal footing with the other three coasts," said Robert J. Blackwell, assistant administrator of the Maritime Administration.

"It could be a turning point." The bill is primarily designed to rebuild the nation's merchant marine fleet but amendments adopted in the House and Senate expanded it to give a big boost to Great Lakes shipping.

The key provision appears to be opening a lucrative tax loophole to Great Lakes shipping companies, allowing them to defer corporate income tax payments in return for pledges to put the money into a special fund for new ship construction.

The hope is that the tax deferral provision will encourage new capital and more ships in the Great Lakes industry, Blackwell said.

Sen. Walter F. Mondale, D-Minn., said the tax break and a provision forgiving millions of dollars of interest owed by the St. Lawrence Seaway Development Corp. to the U.S. Treasury "should be a boon to shipping on the lakes."

Victory March Hope Is for a Million

By JOHN STOWELL
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Charging the Nixon administration is afraid of Communists, leaders of this weekend's "March for Victory" say they hope one million Americans will turn out with "flags and Bibles" to demonstrate for a military triumph in South Vietnam.

Washington police prepared for one-fourth that number. There were few, if any, early signs of a confrontation between prowar and antiwar factions.

The Rev. Carl McIntire, whose International Council of Christian Churches is organizing the rally, charges that President Nixon's "Vietnamization" of the war is deserting both the Vietnamese people and American soldiers and prisoners of war.

His worth while top drawing card, South Vietnamese Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky, had planned to come to the United States to address the rally but bowed out last weekend at the urging of government leaders here and in his own country.

An afternoon appearance by McIntire and a delegation of fundamentalist ministers at the Pentagon was the opening scheduled event for the weekend. A memorial service will be held on the Capitol steps tonight to honor Americans killed in the Southeast Asia war.

The march itself begins at noon Saturday, from the east end of the Mall along Pennsylvania Avenue to the Washington Monument for a rally.

At a pre-march dinner in suburban Maryland Thursday night, McIntire told a cheering crowd of 350 persons, "There'll be a hot time in the old town Saturday. We ought to have a million people in this city on Saturday."

Alternatively quoting from the Bible and newspaper clippings, he blamed Nixon and members of Congress for discouraging Ky's visit.

Monticello to Get Grant

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., said Thursday that the Department of Transportation has approved a contract with Duracraft Boats, Inc. of Monticello for manufacture of 30 aluminum boats at a cost of $88,200.

The boats are to be used by the Coast Guard.

Native of Southwest Arkansas Now Head of Oklahoma City College

By MARY ANITA LASETER
Star Feature Writer

He is a Favorite Son of Southwest Arkansas. Since 1958, he has been held in equally high esteem by people in Oklahoma City. He was inaugurated as president on Monday, September 21.

We are speaking of Dr. Dolphus Whitten, Jr., the new head of Oklahoma City University, who was born and reared in Southwest Arkansas where his father, Dolphus Whitten, Sr., was a druggist in Hope and Prescott and owned a drug store in Gurdon.

Neither of the Whitten sons, Dolphus, Jr. and Horace, followed in their father's professional footsteps and neither stayed in Arkansas. Instead, they migrated to Oklahoma and Louisiana, respectively.

We first knew Dolphus Whitten, Jr. when he was principal of Hope High School in the mid-1940's. Though he was small, physically, he was quite large, mentally. He was the kind of person who could substitute as a teacher on almost any subject and do it well. He commanded the respect of his pupils without demanding it. He taught school in Washington before coming to the Hope School System, and he was Dean of Men at Henderson State Teachers College after he left Hope.

He and his wife, the former Marie Braden of Little Rock, were members of the choir at the Methodist Church in Hope and also served as counselors for the Methodist Youth Fellowship here. They became the parents of a daughter, Suzanne, and those who remember her as a baby will find it hard to believe that she and her husband, Bob Guy, are in graduate school at the University of Illinois. Time doesn't fly; it zooms.

While psychology was not his field, Dolphus Whitten was good at practicing it. Once while he was principal at HHS, two husky boys got into a fight during the noon hour. A crowd gathered on the school ground and, at first, no one noticed that one of the spectators was the school principal. When someone spied him, the word buzzed around quickly and the fight slowed down. He didn't try to pull the boys apart or even to reprimand them. Instead, he told them quietly to come into the office WHEN THEY HAD FINISHED.

He turned on his heel and left, but two foolish looking young men followed in short order.

Dr. Whitten isn't the only president in the family. Mrs. Whitten served as President of the WSCS in 1969 for the Oklahoma Conference of the Methodist Church. She is a pretty woman whose naturally curly hair became naturally gray while she was in her 20's. It would have been the envy of many a wig wearer today. Her gray coiffure was particularly lovely with the outfit she made from the gray and orange plaid her husband brought back from Scotland, when he returned from military service.

A graduate of Ouachita

College and the University of Texas, Dr. Dolphus Whitten, Jr. went to the Methodist co-educational school in Oklahoma City in 1958 as administrative dean and professor of history. In 1961 his title was changed to vice-president for administration. Twice he served as acting president but refused the official title for fear he would not be able to have as close a relationship with the students if he were their president. Finally, on January 7 of this year he was named president by the board of trustees, and ten days ago he was inaugurated.

Arkansas' loss was Oklahoma's gain when the Whittens moved to Oklahoma City, and the students at OCU are fortunate to have a president who is still able to command respect without demanding it.

Jordan Will Recognize Only One Group

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Jordan's new government said Thursday it would recognize only one Palestinian guerrilla organization, Al Fatah, headed by Yasser Arafat. Arab truce teams persuaded guerrillas and army troops to stop shooting at each other in Palestinian strongholds in northern Jordan.

Maj. Adnan Abu Odeh, Jordan's information minister, said the move to recognize only Al Fatah was not a measure against the Palestinians. "We are against chaos and disorder," he said. "I tell you, the struggle in Jordan has been between the government and the Marxists."

Odeh suggested that members of other guerrilla groups join Al Fatah. The Jordanian government has offered a $14,000 reward for the capture of Dr. George Habash, head of the Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine, a pro-Peking guerrilla group responsible for the recent spate of airline hijackings to the Middle East.

In Beirut, Lebanon, an Al Fatah spokesman said Amman government forces and guerrillas were persuaded to lay down their weapons at Ramtha, a Jordanian border town on the Damascus-Amman highway, the commandos' principal supply route from Syria.

The guerrilla spokesman said Ramtha and nearby Irbid, Jordan's second largest city, were quiet after reports of shelling by Jordanian troops earlier in the day.

Jordan's King Hussein said the truce that ended his country's civil war was largely the work of Egypt's President Gamal Abdel Nasser who died Monday of a heart attack.

A correspondent for the Parisian newspaper Figaro, Jean-Francois Chauvel, wrote that Hussein said Nasser "threw all his weight into the balance" in negotiations for the cease-fire and "it was thanks to him" that it succeeded.

President to London for Conference

By FRANK CORMIER
Associated Press Writer

LONDON (AP) — President Nixon, nearing the end of his European trip, arrived in London today for a five-hour visit including lunch with Queen Elizabeth II and Prime Minister Edward Heath.

The two-hour conference between Nixon and Heath is expected to cover East-West relations, the Middle East and economic problems.

Nixon and Heath, whose Conservative party upset Harold Wilson's Labor forces in June, fly by helicopter to Chequers, Heath's official country residence 30 miles northwest of London, for a luncheon with Queen Elizabeth II.

Later, the President's party goes to Ireland, where he meets at Limerick Sunday morning with Ambassador David K. E. Bruce, head of the U.S. delegation at the Indochina peace talks in Paris, and other key Southeast Asia advisers.

Presidential press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said the Limerick talks will produce "no major announcements" but he indicated that Nixon and Bruce could decide on some change in the U.S. bargaining position.

The President wants Bruce to "recommend any new vital approaches he thinks might be useful," Ziegler said. He reiterated the administration's position that Bruce has "a wide degree of flexibility" in conducting the peace talks.

The five-hour British visit is the shortest of Nixon's 12,000-mile, five-nation European journey. It precedes a five-day visit the prime minister plans in Washington this month.

Sources said Nixon and Heath would discuss complications caused in the Middle East by the death of Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser last Monday and problems concerning the financing of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Sources said they probably also would discuss the Soviet Union's apparently toughening positions in the Middle East, Cuba and Berlin. The British Foreign Office disclosed Friday that the Soviets tried last week to close two air corridors into West Berlin, but backed down and allowed Western military aircraft to pass unmolested. Also, the Pentagon says it has evidence that the Russians are constructing what appears to be a submarine base in Cuba, and Soviet leaders repeatedly have urged the United States to abandon its policy of supplying arms to Israel.

Lists Things That Cause Campus Riots

BOULDER, Colo. (AP) —

America's entry into Cambodia and the Jackson and Kent State shootings produced the most intense reaction on colleges and universities with the highest academic admission policies, a survey by the Carnegie Commission on Higher Education concluded today.

The commission said a nationwide survey of 2,551 college and university presidents, with 73 per cent responding, showed a "quite striking" relationship between schools' admission standards and campus turbulence last spring.

The study also concluded that colleges and universities in the Northeast showed greater reaction than elsewhere in the United States.

Results of the commission's profile on campus turbulence were announced by Dr. Clark Kerr, commission chairman and former president of the University of California, Berkeley.

AIDC Changes State Image

MONTREAL (AP) — The Arkansas Industrial Development Commission has changed the image of Arkansas from an agricultural state to an industrial state, according to Adrian Williamson Jr., executive director of the AIDC.

Williamson made the statement Thursday at a meeting of the Kiwanis Club of Montreal. He said some 3,000 new industries have developed in Arkansas in the 15 years since the commission was established.

Inspection of Big Jumbo Jets Ordered

By JOHN S. LANG
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The federal government has quietly ordered the nation's airlines to inspect the engines of all 747 jumbo jets because of similar engine failures and fires during two flights.

The order was issued two weeks ago by the Federal Aviation Administration but was not disclosed until Thursday when the National Transportation Safety Board reported that 747 engines are "normally operating near critical turbine temperature conditions."

The safety board urged the FAA to take quick steps to avoid "potentially catastrophic results." The FAA did not respond immediately, but scheduled a news conference today.

The safety board said it found evidence that excessive temperatures caused similar engine failures on two 747 flights.

An explosion and fire damaged an American Airlines 747 on takeoff from San Francisco on Sept. 18, but the plane with 142 persons aboard landed safely. An Air France 747 had similar failure Aug. 17 on a Montreal-to-Paris flight but also landed safely.

The FAA said it ordered inspection of all 747 engines the day after the American Airlines engine failures, which a safety board spokesman described as "a very near thing—it nearly crashed."

The safety board did not call for grounding of the huge jetliners, which can carry more than 300 passengers, but urged the FAA "to initiate further expeditious actions in order to preclude recurrence of similar failures."

Although the FAA refused to release its inspection order immediately, The Associated Press obtained a copy of a telegram purportedly sent the same day to airlines by the engine manufacturer, Pratt & Whitney, recommending urgent inspection of all engines.

The telegram said preliminary investigation revealed "disc failure resulted from contact with the second stage turbine stator inner shroud."

A Boeing Co. spokesman in Seattle, asked about the reports, said the firm has "highest confidence" in the jumbo jets, noting they have carried "more than two million people."

"All engine problems have received immediate exhaustive attention with fixes identified and safety margins insured," the spokesman added.

After the safety board reported its findings Thursday, a Pratt & Whitney spokesman said, "We have great faith in our JT9D engine and in the FAA's actions that they have taken."

An earlier inspection order by the FAA titled "Priority One" and dated Aug. 27—ten days after the Air France engine failure—directed the airlines to inspect 10 per cent of the 747 engines within the next 100 hours time in service.

This order said it confirmed agreements the FAA reached during meetings with the airlines, Pratt & Whitney, Boeing Aircraft, the Air Transport Association and the Safety Board.

An FAA spokesman said a special industry-government task force had been meeting privately for several weeks to discuss 747 engine failures and had the fifth such meeting Wednesday.

Plane Crash Claims 29 in Colorado

By CARL R. HILLIARD
Associated Press Writer

SILVER PLUME, Colo. (AP) — The cream of the Wichita State University football team, its top athletic officials and some of its most loyal fans were killed Friday when their game-bound plane crashed into a mountainside while trying to cross the Continental Divide.

Twenty-nine persons, 13 of them players, were killed. Eleven persons—including nine players, a copilot and a team trainer—survived.

The Colorado State Patrol said there was no chance of other survivors among the 40 persons listed as passengers and crew on the twin-engine Martin 404.

The aircraft, dubbed the "Gold Plane" by the team, was one of two taking the squad, its coaching staff and boosters to Logan, Utah, for a game today with Utah State, where the Shockers hoped to break a three-game losing streak.

The other plane, the "Black Plane," arrived safely with 34 persons, including 23 players and five assistant coaches, aboard. The game was called off and the rest of the 11-game season probably will be canceled.

Among those presumed dead were the athletic director, A. C. "Bert" Katzenmeyer; the head football coach, Ben Wilson; Kansas State Rep. Ray King and Wichita Banker John Grooms and their wives.

The list also included Marvin Brown, the team's second leading rusher; Gene Robinson, the Shockers' top pass receiver; and Ray Coleman of Wichita, membership chairman of the Shocker Club, a booster organization. Tradition decreed that top players traveled with the head coach.

The crash, a few minutes after a refueling stop in Denver, plunged the campus at the 12,000-student school into mourning.

The other plane was impounded by the Federal Aviation Administration in Utah and its occupants were to return to Wichita on commercial flights today.

Cause of the crash was undetermined. A university information officer, Doug Lewis, said the university leased the plane from Golden Eagle Aviation, which apparently leased the craft from someone else, but he didn't know who. He said Golden Eagle "told us the plane didn't belong to them." Golden Eagle provided the crew.

The plane was a short-range airliner of a type built in the late 1940s and early 1950s. The plane impounded at Logan is a Martin 202, smaller version of the 404.

One week ago, one of two planes chartered by Wichita State ran off the runway and was damaged. The second charter plane shuttled the team to Canyon, Tex., for its game with West Texas State University. University spokesmen said it was unknown whether the same planes were used for the trips to Texas and Utah.

The ill-fated plane, with one engine smoking, crashed into the east side of 11,992-foot Loveland Pass about 800 feet below the summit, just below timberline.

"The plane tried to land in the highway in front of us," said Mrs. George Grunwald of Huntington Beach, Calif., who was driving down the mountainside on winding U.S. 6 with her husband. "By the grace of God he zoomed up so he didn't hit us. He took a 45-degree turn and went over a little ledge on the side of the mountain."

There was a "big ball of fire and immense black smoke" as the plane vanished into the tall spruce trees with a series of loud explosions, she said.

Strewed about the crash area were orange jerseys, gold helmets with a black "W" on the side, shoulder pads and other team equipment.
